

The Center for Educational Excellence in collaboration with Torero Urban Scholars present:

From Awareness to Action: Supporting Justice-Impacted Students Through Inclusive Teaching Practices

Fridays | 12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

Knauss Center for Business Education (KCBE) Room 302

This two-part faculty development series is designed to deepen participants' understanding of justice-impacted students while equipping faculty with practical, evidence-informed strategies for creating learning environments where these students, and ultimately all students, can thrive. Grounded in the lived experiences of justice-impacted students, current research, and the work of the Torero Urban Scholars program, participants will leave with a deeper understanding of the barriers and strengths justice-impacted students bring to higher education, as well as concrete tools they can immediately apply in their own teaching.

Contact: Center for Educational Excellence cee@sandiego.edu

Two-part Professional Development Training for Faculty

September 11

- Session One:
Understanding Justice-Impacted Students

September 18

- Session Two: From
Awareness to Action

Speakers:

- TUS Co-Founders:
Janelle Brown-Peters
and Austin Galy along with other system
impacted faculty & students

Scan to Register